

Set My Dreams Free

The first album from Chris Rogan is a collection of original songs that draw from a contemporary celtic style.

Credits:

Chris Rogan vocals, acoustic guitar, bouzouki and classical guitar, with midis of button accordion, flute, whistle and cello.

Tracks: title/timing/notes

Set My Dreams Free 4:42 – inspired by my Mum who always offered words of encouragement throughout my life. By Chris Rogan

Her Perfect Eyes 5:52 – a love song with a slight twist – written about the qualities that I love and respect of the three women in my life – my wife and daughters. By Chris Rogan

I Saw the News 3:06 - a topical song of its day with the underlying theme of each generation ignoring the lessons of the past. By Chris Rogan

'Til Morning Comes 3:52 – the thoughts of a parent who must inevitably, but rightly let go despite their longing to take care. By Chris Rogan

Banks of the Clyde 5:41 – my Grandmother remembered seeing the Lusitania pulled down the Clyde for fitting out. She was probably 3 years old. A number of my ancestors worked in the Shipyards. By Chris Rogan

Live For the Day 4:01 – a love song of leaving and longing. By Chris Rogan

My Right Hand 5:11 – a fictional tale of a lost love and the breakdown in relationships caused by grief. By Chris Rogan

Pearls and Lace 2:50 – rather like a careers guidance leaflet – the gifts of love that might be prompted. Chris Rogan

Things We Should Say 3:27 – the reassurance that can be offered more often. By Chris Rogan

Wild Mountain Thyme 3:23 – an old favourite. By Francis McPeake arr. Rogan

The Story of John and Mary 4:10 – the story of my Great Grandparents. By Chris Rogan

Things That Matter to Me 3:31 – another love song! By Chris Rogan

The Dancer's Song 4:45 - inspired by my Dad who could dance and sing at the drop of ta hat. By Chris Rogan